F. A. Jones Gets Six-Year Job

PHOENIX, Nov. 23.—Unofficial returns show that F. A. Jones has been elected to serve six years on the state corporation commission; A. W. Cole will serve four years, and W. P. Geary, now chairman, two years. Jones received 29,381 votes, Cole, 27,935; Geary, 27,583.

"Tex" Single- ton Captured

Socorro N. M. Nov. 23.—"Tex" Singleton, who it is alleged is wanted by Phoenix authorities on numerous hours' running charges, has been arrested at a ranch near here. He was captured after a chase that lasted three days. The authorities say that he was under arrest some weeks ago in Flagstaff, Ariz., and that he made his escape.

Social Center To Re- place Arizona Saloons

PHOENIX, Ariz. Nov. 21.—A "social center" bill is being prepared by Dr. W. W. Schenk, of Flagstaff, and will be introduced in the legislature next spring. Dr. Schenk believes that when saloons are abolished in Arizona municipalities must make provisions to keep their inhabitants entertained. In other words, a substitute for the saloon as a lounging place must be provided. Dr. Schenk's bill provides for the maintenance of a "social center" equipped with bowling alleys, pool tables and other amusement devices, in each incorporated city or town.

Strike More Ore At Courtland

Gleason Nov. 23.—W. S. Campbell and associates in the ownership of the West Side group of claims, on which a small force is working, report having struck a new body of ore that shows up splendidly, though its value has not been determined nor the extent of the find made known. This group, consisting of ten claims, lying as they do, between developed properties and joining on the end lines of other well developed properties with demonstrating ore bodies, gives this group a promising opportunity that may be fulfilled with the discovery of the ore just found.

Brookhill Bar Robbed of Money

DOUGLAS Nov. 23.—A burglar broke the transom window over the rear door of the Brookhill saloon on G avenue early this morning and stole $90 that was concealed behind the bar. The robbery was discovered at 6 o'clock this morning when the saloon was opened. The police were notified. Chief Kirby and his men and Sheriff Wheeler and his deputies are all engaged today in working on the case. The burglar made no effort to blow the safe. He took no whiskey and muddled with nothing, it appears. But the money he carried away. Evidently he knew where the money was kept. It was not in the cash register. In leaving the saloon, he lifted the bar from the rear door and walked out leaving the door open.

Possibly the burglar belongs to the gang that robbed and murdered Joe Englund in his automobile last Tuesday morning. Both jobs were so thoroughly and efficiently done without any clue having been left behind that there is reason to believe they were perpetrated by a gang experienced in crime that has drifted into the city.

News of the State in Condensed Form

Good Hunting

A hunting party consisting of three Gleason men and their families returned from a two week's outing spent on Rock creek in the Chiricahua mountains. They brought home all the law would allow; six fine bucks, a few several fine pelts taken from fox, bobcat and coyote. Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson, of the party, were so well satisfied with the mountain conditions that they left Tuesday to spend the entire winter there. They took with them several large bear traps, and it is possible that brain will fall to their lure as signs are reported to be quite numerous this year.

Charged with Cattle Theft

A new case of cattle theft was gone into yesterday in Judge Johnston's court, when O. R. Grueswell and his son, William, were charged with the theft of a calf, the property of R. Taylor, at his ranch near Chandler.

Land Selections

The state land commission yesterday made three selections of approximately 12,000 acres in Cochise county. The land was recently surveyed by the government and yesterday set as the time for filing or selection.—Gazette

The capital stock is $50,000 and the incorporators are LeRoy Anderson, R. K. Porter, Dr. C. H. Totten, W. L. Roberts and S. A. Cottrell.

Bryan Honored

William Jennings Bryan, Jr., a resident of Tucson and son of secretary of state of the United States, has accepted a position on the board of regents of the University of Arizona, vacated by the resignation of Rev. Logan W. Wheatly. Mr. Wheatly has moved to his new church at Oroville, Calif. Mr. Bryan is an attorney here and was a member of the class of 1912 of the University of Arizona and has a degree of Master of Arts at 29 years of age.

Arizonan Honored

Another honor has been bestowed on Herbert C. Smith of Phoenix, who is a student in the engineering department of the university of Michigan. Smith has been chosen for membership in the Michigan Gamma chapter of Tau Beta Pi, the national honorary engineering society. He will be initiated into the fraternity on the evening of December 2.

A Peculiar Accident

One of the most peculiar accidents in its effect ever known in Douglas occurred Monday morning, when Mrs. Eugene Hitt, and elderly woman, jumping from a buggy, fell on to outstretched hands and broke both wrists. The breaks are so exactly similar that the X-ray plate of either one could well be taken for the other.

Instant Death

Sitting up in bed and eating breakfast but a few minutes before he expired, the death of Mrs. Oscar Nelson, a well known Douglas woman, which occurred yesterday morning, came as a great shock to her relatives and friends. Funeral arrangements are incomplete. The body is now in charge of the Ferguson undertaking establishment.

No Postponement

Gov. Hunt has been advised by the director of the Panama-Pacific exposition that, all rumors to the contrary, there will be no postponement of the great coast fair and that it will be opened on schedule time, Feb. 20, 1915, and will be 100 percent complete on that date. The management claim that the European war has been an aid rather than a drawback to the exposition and that American manufacturers are awake to the opportunities it will afford to secure both American and foreign trade.

Good Educational Facilities

While Winslow, in northeastern Arizona, a town of about 4000 inhabitants, has a remarkable building record for the past two years, with new Santa Fe shops that cost $200,000, her chief pride lies in her educational facilities. Best of all in local estimation is her high school, a new institution of even stronger growth than the town. The building is not in possession in architecture of size, with its lower course built of sandstone quarried from its own basement. The original building, of one story above ground, cost $17,500, the sum raised by a bond issue. This original structure, proving too small, a story was added under unique conditions, the brick shell costing only $4500 and the furnishings largely the makings of the students themselves. The trustee, joined with Principal G. E. Cornelius in the determination that the district would not go further into debt and the result was a joyous one.

Arizona Cotton Shippers

The first shipment of cotton from the Clearwater ranch at Adamsville was made on Wednesday of this week, when a wagonload of the bolls passed through town enroute to the Mesquite. The shipment contained about 1,150 pounds and the cotton compares very favorably with any of that grown in the Salt River Valley.

Apache Farmers Prosperous

Farmers of the district surrounding Apache are enjoying the best year in their history, due to the bountiful rainfall of the last few weeks, according to J. W. Marken, a merchant of that place, who is in Douglas. The harvest season is now on in full swing in that section, and large crops of sorghum, beans, etc., are being made.

Shoplifter Arrested

Charged with the theft of furs valued at $60 Ernest Scharfield, an American, was arrested Saturday morning in the Phelps-Dodge store at Douglas. Scharfield is alleged to have entered the store ostensibly to purchase a pair of silk stockings, which he bought and paid for. He was noticed by T. M. Smith to be acting in a suspicious manner around the fur counter, and finally to pick up two of the prettiest muffs in the selection, one valued at $20 and the other at $40, and stick them under his overcoat, then walk out.

Violated Game Laws

Jim Mahone, an Indian policeman of the Hualapai tribe, is deeply offended and has written to Game Warden Willard to that effect. The cause of Mahone's displeasure is the fact that he was recently arrested by Deputy Warden Rothwell on a charge of killing antelope and when arraigned before Justice Cartmel of Seligman drew a fine of $109.

Old Arizonan Dead

Isaac Taft Stoddard, former territorial secretary, founder and president of the Stoddard Incorporating company, and one of the prominent business men of the southwest, dropped dead Monday night at the family residence at Phoenix. News of his death, which was due to apoplexy, came as a shock to hundreds of his friends, many of whom had seen him during the day, apparently in the best of health.

Arrest Robbers

With the arrest at Phoenix of two men giving their names as William Bowers and John Watson, in the act of picking pockets on the street cars at the gates of the fair grounds Tuesday, the sheriff and his officers believe they have found the source of the series of personal robberies that have been reported during the last three days.

Fire at Tucson

A line of hose three blocks long was laid to put out a fire of unknown origin that damaged the interior and furnishings of the brick house at Tucson occupied by Mrs. Maria Andrade and daughter Panichita to the amount of $500 last evening at 8:10 o'clock. The two women were not at home and it is not known how the blaze started. The alarm was turned in by neighbors who attempt to put the fire out before the arrival of the department.

Auto Accident

According to the Southern Pacific mail, a passenger returning from Yuma, an automobile driven by a cross country tourist ran off the ferry there Saturday. The driver had his wife and two children in the machine at the time. The car's skid succeeded in plunging into the water, the man and his wife succeeded in crawling out on the top and were saved, while an 11-year-old boy jumped into the water and brought the daughter, who went down with the machine, to the surface. The owner has offered a reward for the recovery of a trunk on the machine in which there is $1000 in money.

Charged With Assault

Ygnacio Quibros, charged with assaulting Chung Lung, a Chinaman residing at Tucson, was given a sentence of three months by Justice Comstock Tuesday. He also resisted arrest by Officer Ybarra of the city police force. Quibros had a butcher knife and axe when arrested by Ybarra.

The Rainfall at McNeal

More than fifteen inches of rain has fallen in the McNeal basin this season, according to Mr. Jones, who lives three miles from McNeal, and has a rain gauge on his place. In August the precipitation was 7.92 inches; in September 3.65 inches; in October 2 inches; and up to the present time in November, 1.05 inches. Mr. Jones thinks the rainfall has been too heavy in some instances, flooding out bean crops and occasionally injuring maize.

Chief Yuma Frank of the McDowell Apaches is dead. The chief, who was about sixty years of age, and looked and acted like a man of forty; died last Wednesday. He was a splendid example of modern American Indian and was a credit to his tribe.

University Gets Another $5000

Another check for $5000 has been transmitted by the state land commission to the state treasurer for the University of Arizona. The money was derived from the sale of timber on University land in northern Arizona. This makes $54,000 added to the University fund from this source since the spring of 1913.

Spineless Cactus Farm To Be Near Tucson

MESA, Nov. 24.—That the Luther Burbank spineless cactus farm will probably be located in the Avra valley, eight miles west of Tucson, was made known when the state land commission recently designated six sections of land in that locality as non-irrigable and available for the purpose. Twelve sections in all, the entire amount granted by congress, had been selected by Burbank in the Avra valley. Under the provisions of the bill which was passed by congress, Burbank was granted twelve sections of semi-arid, non-irrigable land in California, Nevada, New Mexico or Arizona for the establishment of a farm for the propagation of spineless cactus. Under the conditions of the act Burbank must have 100,000 growing plants two years old on the land before the title will issue to him.

Booze and Jealous- ly Lead to Killing

MESA Nov. 24.—A combination of booze and jealousy led to a killing in Mesa last night. Rafael Cardenas, aged 19, had attacked a dame in company with the sweetheart of Juan Pelasco, aged 21, and the infuriated Juan issued to have objected. He voiced his disapproval by means of a six-inch bowie, with which he is alleged to have stabbed his rival twice below the right shoulder. Cardenas bled to death before medical aid could be secured. Pelasco is in custody.

Will Be Tried for Attempted Murder

PHOENIX Nov. 25.—As the result of gunplay in his effort to settle a dispute between two Indians in his store last evening John Derrick, a respected store-keeper of Chandler, is held in custody awaiting hearing on the charge of attempted murder.

The dispute arose between the Indians in the store over the ownership of some gunny sacks. Derrick ordered the men out of his store. On their refusal to move he drew a six-shooter, pointing it at Juan Anton, the Indian who started the trouble. The gun went off and the bullet passed between the Indian's arm and his body, doing no injury.

On the evidence of Anton, the gun was exploded accidentally, Derrick, he claims, had no intention of pulling on him. Derrick will be brought up before Judge Arnold this morning for preliminary hearing of the charge of attempted murder.

The hotel will be built of wood in log cabin and will be completed in time for exposition travel. Plans for the new combination station and hotel at Gallup, to replace the present structure are now under way. The new building here will be concrete construction with brick facing.

Outlaw Back At Old Job

PHOENIX Nov. 24.—Henry Starr, outlaw and bank robber, who was released from the Colorado state prison last winter on parole, has gone back to the old life, and is now wanted by the authorities of Oklahoma and Arkansas for robbing a string of five banks in those states.

Starr was arrested at Boulder, Arizona, in 1909 by the officers of Maricopa and Yuma counties for robbing a bank at Amity, Colorado, and sent to the penitentiary on an indeterminate sentence of from 7 to 25 years. Released last winter on parole, he went to Holly, in the same state, where he opened a fine cafe which he conducted for several months. He then traveled over the state, playing poker for a living, and is said to have made several large winnings. A few months ago he disappeared and the bank robberies in Oklahoma and Arkansas amounting to $30,000 were the sequel.

Starr's life before his incarceration in Colorado was a continuous record of crime, and he often declared that if ever he returned to the old life he would never be taken alive. Since the bank robberies he and a woman companion have been traced to New York and it is believed that he has made his escape to some foreign country.
